Dear Parents,

My name is Katie Amos and I am the High School Professional School Counselor. I am SO very excited to be serving you, your children, and the community of CMIT-South! This is my second year at CMIT-South and I could not be more thrilled than to be here with your children. It is my goal to provide all of our students with a wealth of knowledge to help them successfully navigate through the important thing we call life. I am here to support and promote each student's academic, career, and personal development; however, I cannot do this alone. Your involvement plays an important role in the development of your child. Believe it or not, students need their parents now more than ever, whether they are willing to admit it or not. 😊

Statistics overwhelmingly show that parental involvement is the key to the overall success of children. Children that have parents who are actively involved in their formal education undoubtedly have greater academic achievement. Additionally, children's motivation in school increases when their parents show an interest. When schools and parents work together, students benefit tremendously academically, socially, and emotionally. For these reasons, it is so very important that we continue to work together as a team.

CMIT-South is a growing community. Students are meeting new teachers, making new friends, and making experiences. At CMIT-South, the staff is determined to assist our students through this transitional stage and make it as smooth as possible. However, in order to do so, we will need your help, support, trust, and unyielding commitment to make this happen.

As your child's Professional School Counselor, I play an instrumental role in working directly with your child with their academic, career, and personal/social development. Professional School Counselors are advocates who provide support to maximize student potential and academic achievement. If you should have any questions and/or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at kamos@cmitsouth.org.

My desire is to help every child develop the tools necessary to meet the demands of an ever-changing world. I want to ensure that all of our students are prepared with the knowledge and skills at the highest level as they develop into productive, caring members of society. I look forward to a wonderful and rewarding school year!

Sincerely,

Katie Amos, M.A, NCC
Professional School Counselor
