Advisory Committee Seeks Input

The Anne Arundel Special Education Citizen's Advisory Committee (SECAC) is conducting an important survey about special education services which needs your input. This unique survey was developed by local parents of students with disabilities, and provides an opportunity for you to give direct feedback on how well you think special education services are working for your child and family. The information from the survey will be used by SECAC to advise the Director of Special Education. Please follow this link to the survey and complete it by July 10, 2019.

Happenings

Success for the 'Meet the Partners . . .

Special Education and You'

Thank you for joining the Partners for Success Team for an evening of guidance and encouragement. Parents and Partners shared information, snacks and connection at the Carver Center in Gambrills for our first Meet the Partners event on April 25. We hope the attendees enjoyed themselves and found the event as productive as the Partners did.
